

Craigslist Ad, Posted June 26, 6:43 A.M. 0 Replies

by Talitha Ford

Seeking Landscaper- NOW HIRING!
Pay: 14/Hr+++!!

The Crabapple tree in my front yard has fungus on the leaves and knots all up and down the trunk again, so if you could prune it back and treat the bark so that it at least doesn't die that would be great!!! It'd be even more of an eyesore if the bark was all bumpy!! I'd do it myself but my back is to weak!! While you're at it, there would be extra pay if you could gather up the berries and the fallen leaves in a bucket or something-so the grass looks nicer that would be great!!

Photo © Albert Bridge (cc-by-sa/2.0)

While you're at it I'd pay extra-hell, I'd pay double if you could just take the bucket and just dump it just pour the smushed berries on my ex-wife's head (her name is Jeanine and she lives at 133 South Maple) that would be great it was her goddamn tree she just liked the flowers she was never much one for research!! After all that hard work you'd be welcome to come in for a cool drink (I could make us some lemonade) because I know it's so warm out there still!! The back door will be unlocked and the kitchen is straight to the left!!

While you're at it you could come and sit down for a while, I've got satellite and cable so we could watch something, anything you want (so long as you clean the Crabapples off the dish when you're gathering them up) and we could sit and while you're at it if you could run your fingers through my hair that would be great, just make sure you wash all those crabapples off your hands while you're in the kitchen!

If you're available reply or send me a direct message- {rates negotiable}
I look forward to working with you!

#MMPPisLIT
www.meowmeowpowpowlit.com

