

a tinder influenced co-star was not intent on being patient with money i'd borrowed and had sent to me through venmo we lyft'd you to the otter where we'd splayed our freshly flushed cards grinning at the ceiling no bluff nor rough tarot just our separate divorces and a mutual concern for the fragility of the situation & its timing

we talked about your love for horror movies, & what i'd seen most recently on shudder butcher, baker, nightmare maker you had said if i enjoyed the actor who played the father in psycho goreman, you suggested i checkout his production company (astron-6)

we split a schilling and blew into the air since before [redacted] i don't even know where we went after that it's like you were blown into the air had you been drafted by seattle's kraken; tacking your black

sails, maneuvering your raft away from the bent nail and black fly, playing on spotify?

waves riding the moon hooch tide fleeced through the curves of your own soft-red silhouette

what tomorrow would see; i fathom

"let's go"
