

*Today we went to where you died
and placed flowers.*

by Nickki DuBan

We ate and some of it was your favorite foods.

We drank.

We told stories.

We did work around the house (well, I watched and couldn't do much). We played with the dog.

We hung out with your old man cat.

We read stories that friends and family gave us.

We had a family meeting

Armand played your guitar that was remarkably still in tune after being untouched for at least a whole year.

We cried. We laughed.

We spent the day together.

It was a beautiful day.

You would've gone out riding your bike.

It's been a whole year.
